

Trust painters to discover places where the play of light and lay of the land create an especially pleasing effect.

(Travel-Holiday Magazine)

By the turn of the 20th century, many artists were working side by side and living at Miss Florence Griswold's boardinghouse (now the Florence Griswold Museum). And so it remains today. Artists, musicians and writers are drawn to the Lymes for natural beauty and quiet inspiration.

Visit the Florence Griswold Museum, Lyme Art Association, and Lyme Academy College of Fine Arts. Stroll through our galleries, artist studios, Town Halls and libraries.

Attend a performance (music, dance, theatre). Discover a local author (David Handler, James Benn, Luanne Rice).

Art: it's everywhere in our Lymes.

Whether you are here for a season, a weekend or an afternoon, you will enjoy every minute.

Our towns provide easy access for boating, canoeing, and kayaking on the Connecticut River and Long Island Sound. Waterproof maps are available at each Town Hall. Lyme's Hamburg Cove is one of the most popular boating destinations in the northeast.

The sandy beach at Sound View in Old Lyme is your gateway to the Sound. Generations of visitors have immersed themselves in the sights, sounds and smells of summer in this picture postcard spot.

We'll Welcome You in Every Season!

Spring: Taste of the Lymes
Summer: Midsummer Festival
Fall: Pet Parade, Fall Festival
Winter: Light Up Old Lyme

Stroll down historic Lyme Street for a glimpse of what life was like when sea captains called Old Lyme their home port. Bicycle on a quiet path, hike a woodland trail, kayak our lakes or rivers. Explore shops for unexpected treasures. Dine at an award-winning restaurant.

You may well discover the same vistas that inspired such artists as Henry Ward Ranger, William Chadwick, and Childe Hassam.

A stay at an historic inn (the Bee & Thistle Inn or the Old Lyme Inn) will leave you rejuvenated for another day of memory making.
