FLORENCE GRISWOLD MUSEUM ANNUAL REPORT 2021

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Members,

The year began with the hope that the vaccine rollout would enable life to return to the way it was before the pandemic. Committees began to meet in person. Traffic patterns designed for movement through the Museum were discontinued. The Museum cautiously began to think about hosting events for larger groups. Still cautious, we chose to forgo the Garden Luncheon, [instead holding another wildly successful auction], but planned for the Gala in September. We all witnessed a summer with Café Flo teeming with visitors enjoying lunch on the veranda of Marshfield. It seemed so apropos to wander through "Social & Solitary: Reflections on Art, Isolation, and Renewal" and reflect on the past year and half. September crescendoed with a gala unlike no other. Gala chair, Susan Cartledge, prognosticated that our membership would want to dress up and step out. She and her committee designed a glamorous "Hollywood on Lyme" themed event and encouraged attendees to dress formally. On a beautiful warm September night couples strode down the red carpet in evening gowns and tuxedos. The excitement was palpable, and a record amount was raised for "Raise your Bid." It was a fantastic evening. The following week Wee Faerie Village returned to fill the campus with faerie lovers young and old and from as far away as California.

Throughout the 2021 cycle of the pandemic, the Museum forged ahead, planning broad sweeping goals to improve the fulfillment of our mission and ensure the sustainability of Museum's future. After the Board of Trustees passed the Strategic Priorities in December of 2020, a robust Strategic Plan was developed and approved by the board in July 2021. Without skipping a beat, staff dove into strategies and objectives that create a roadmap to our future. You may have noticed our reports in On View that highlight movement toward these goals. We are dedicated to updating our friends and the public of our progress, including in this Annual Report, pages 35 to 39.

With the completion of the Strategic Plan, the Museum turned its focus on a feasibility study to determine the level of interest in, and the financial potential for, a campaign. In the fall of 2021, 70 stakeholders were interviewed and 552 people participated in an online survey. The endearment for the Museum by the respondents was amazing. The results were overwhelmingly in favor of moving forward with a campaign to expand the Museum and grow the endowment. Stay tuned for more updates regarding fulfillment of this objective as we move through 2022.

While we've made many new friends in 2021, we are saddened by those we lost, including Helen Krieble and Towny Ludington, long and generous supporters of the Museum. After serving on the board since 1979, George Willauer has retired. His wisdom, kindness, and integrity will be missed. If we have learned anything in the last two years, it is to make headway regardless of the ebb and flow of the forces surrounding us. We learned from the feasibility study that support for the Museum is vast and that our supporters are willing to invest in the future of the Museum, regardless of the pandemic.

To you all, both members and staff, I want to thank you for your continued support and commitment to the Museum. It takes all of us to shape what this Museum is today and what it will be tomorrow. The next chapter is going to be amazing.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR

2021 WAS AN UNUSUAL YEAR FOR US ALL. Unlike 2020, which sometimes felt like a frustrating and often exhausting exercise in dormancy, 2021 was a cycle of highs and lows, freedom and restriction. It is at times such as these that our community looks to the arts for solace and inspiration; for cultural institutions, it is a time for us to look to our members and visitors to renew our commitment to our mission. Serving our public is our core function at the Florence Griswold Museum, and we have been grateful to you all, our membership, for your partnership in making 2021 one of the best years in the history of the Museum.

As a team, we strived to synthesize new means of engagement with the return of some of our most beloved offerings. While we maintained a vital online presence in the creation of virtual lectures and programs, we were able to welcome you onsite with exhibitions and beloved events such as the "Hollywood on Lyme"-themed Benefit Auction in September, in which our live auction smashed giving records and we introduced the Museum to a crowd of new faces.

Even as the shadow of a pandemic resurgence lurked at the end of the year, you all held firm in your support of the Florence Griswold Museum. We welcomed visitors to our Revisiting America: The Prints of Currier & Ives exhibition and to enjoy Miss Florence's Teas during a bustling holiday season. We concluded 2021 on an incredibly high note with our Annual Fund, to which we received contributions that surpassed every year in the history of the Museum. As we look to 2022, we envision an exciting year of activity, including the much-anticipated next installment of our Artist-in-Residence program with Dana Sherwood: Animal Appetites & Other Encounters in the Wilderness, along with the return of the Midsummer Concert and Festival, Café Flo, and an all-new Wee Faerie Village in October.

Colleagues will sometimes ask me about the Florence Griswold Museum, curious how an institution in an enclave like the town of Old Lyme can have such a strong reputation and welcome tens of thousands of visitors each year. For generations, our community of members have built with us a system of financial investment, service, and visitation unlike any institution I know. In times of uncertainty like those we experienced in 2020 and 2021, strong community ties buoy our dedication to our work, knowing that we share investment in the health of this place. With gratitude and acknowledgment of your ongoing support, we invite you to continue to collaborate with us as we work to ensure the strong future of the Florence Griswold Museum.

Director

FINANCIAL

THE MUSEUM'S FISCAL YEAR 2021 ended on a high note despite the continuing effects of the pandemic on programming.

Grant funding, always essential, has been an even more crucial part of the Museum's contributed income the last two years as awards from state and local government, Connecticut Humanities, and generous private donors have enabled the Museum to meet the challenges of adapting our admissions and programming to ever-changing pandemic conditions.

Earned income, while still less than pre-pandemic volume, rebounded nicely in 2021 as admissions, shop sales, and facility rental/food service nearly doubled from the previous year. Payroll Protection funds from the Federal Small Business Administration and the CT Summer at the Museum program through the Connecticut Office of the Arts helped fill the gap resulting from the inability to hold in-person educational programs such as our summer camp.

2021 was another solid year for the stock market, and the Museum's endowment and other restricted funds invested for long-term purposes reflected this with the market value up 12% to $24.1 million on December 31, 2021.

It is a testament to the leadership, Board of Trustees, members, and staff that the Museum has survived this now two-year pandemic in such remarkable financial shape. The Finance Department remains committed to managing resources to ensure that the Museum continues to grow and adapt as we move into the new post-pandemic world.

We Will Continue to Go Back Again!!

We enjoyed both the special exhibits and the Florence Griswold House, which are both very impressive and definitely worth seeing. This time we particularly enjoyed touring the House because of the friendly docent/interpretive staff member at the house who provided great details about the house, including its restoration and its contents, about Florence Griswold and about interesting places to see while we were visiting the area. The information that she provided was quite helpful making the tour seem like a walk back through time.

In the spring, the grounds are quite nice to walk around, and are a great place for artists to come and paint as Impressionists artists did in the past. But this was even true at the time of our visit, which was in early March. There are new trails to hike, including a River Walk and a Hedgerow Walk that we have not had the opportunity to explore but will during a future visit.

Wonderful exhibit to raise awareness about our interconnectedness with ourselves, nature & ecology.

Innovative and thought-provoking exhibition! Putting these paintings into their historical and cultural contexts opens new worlds of deeper understanding and guidance for today. Very well done!

There are numerous small museums throughout New England. The Griswold is well worth the trip. This former art colony has a lot going for it. Just the grounds are a treat and you will not find artworks like these elsewhere. Not to be out done the restaurant is also a gem. The chef Terri pays attention to the small details that make a lunch a special meal. She could have just made a Reuben with a run of the mill sauerkraut or the coleslaw from a mass-produced slaw mix, but she didn't. These were all made with heart and it shows.

florencegriswoldmuseum We are so proud to share that our Manager of Youth Education & Outreach, Julie Garvin Riggs, has won a New England Museum Association (NEMA) Excellence Award!

This peer-nominated award recognizes individual members for excellence in museum practice, whether they're behind-the-scenes or on the front lines.

Julie is a passionate advocate for the power of the arts to bring joy and healing into every life. She is actively growing the Museum's outreach program, taking materials and instruction directly to dozens of communities, ranging from Alzheimer's patients to victims of domestic violence.

Three cheers for Miss Julie! Make sure to give her a hi-five for this much deserved honor the next time you see her.

joefig2000 Saw this wonderful exhibition this summer @florencegriswoldmuseum a beautiful contemporary/historic museum in Old Lyme, CT and former artists colony. The exhibition Social and Solitary: Reflection on Art, Isolation and Renewal was a wonderful show dealing with the last year and half of Covid.

florencegriswoldmuseum This is wonderful! Thank you for sharing and so glad you enjoyed your visit. ❤️

STRATEGIC PLAN

AS PART OF OUR continued commitment to keep you, our Members, apprised of the latest progress towards the five goals of our 2021 to 2026 strategic plan, below is a snapshot of our recent achievements. These priorities were identified with input from members, patrons, volunteers, trustees, staff, and the local community. We appreciate all those who contributed their perspectives and viewpoints and look forward to feedback as we move forward. For more information, please visit FlorenceGriswoldMuseum.org/StratPlan or reach out to any staff member with questions or comments.

Continue the spirit of the Artists' Colony by further connecting our art, history, and landscape to create a more immersive experience for a wider audience.

Develop opportunities to bring art to life in our galleries and Griswold House and throughout our outdoor landscape.

Provided arts outreach to area immigrants through a grant from the Community Foundation of Eastern Connecticut.

Participated in the CT Summer at the Museum initiative. This state-funded program provided for CT residents granted free admission to one visitor under the age of 18 and an accompanying adult.

Hosted the American Historical Print Collectors Society for a tour and special showing of works by Thomas Nason.

Define what a "wider audience" means to the Museum.

Presented 40 virtual events for a total of 2,740 participants and 58 in-person or off-site events that served 4,754 participants. Many of these programs were developed with specific audiences in mind.

Collaborated with the New Orleans-based artist jackie sumell to install one of her "Solitary Garden" beds on our grounds. Volunteers worked with the artist to create the fixtures and plant the garden.

Leverage and build capacity: physical resources of galleries and grounds to support our mission to the artists' spirit.

Completed campaign feasibility study.

Offer exhibitions and programs that are relevant to our audience and achieve our mission of engagement with art, history, and landscape of Connecticut.

Created online exhibition Hauling and Harrowing: Edward Volkert and the Connecticut Farm.

Secured an agreement to serve in 2023 as a venue for Object Lessons in American Art: Works from the Princeton University Art Museum.

Education Intern Jenny Carroll created two special projects for our visitors to enjoy as they explore the Museum grounds.

Dana Sherwood served as the Museum's second Artist-in-Residence and worked toward the creation of a new commission inspired by the Museum's core story to be displayed in 2022.

ENGAGING A WIDER AUDIENCE

Online exhibition

Farm Labor Health and the Food Supply

Hauling and Harrowing: Edward Volkert and the Connecticut Farm uses paintings, sketches, and historic footage of the artist who became known as "America's cattle painter" to examine agricultural practices from the 1910s-1930s, an era of technological transition from animal-powered to industrial farming.

We are grateful to Connecticut Humanities for making this exhibition possible.

Expand the Museum's identity around our established mission of fostering the understanding of American art, with emphasis on the art, history, and landscape of Connecticut.

Continue to enhance the permanent collection in conjunction with our mission.

As an outgrowth of the relationship nurtured with Mark Dion since Fragile Earth, the artist generously donated a print to the collection.

Established the Helen Krieble Fund for Acquisition of Sculpture.

Embrace partnerships and collaborations to better connect our identity and mission to audiences.

Accepted into the national MOMSI (Measurement of Museums Social Impact) project funded by the Institute of Museum and Library Services.

Build upon the established excellence inherent in our educational programming providing a deeper understanding and appreciation of American art.

Created and distributed art kits for children and adults.

Prepared Make and Take kits for sale in the Rafal Landscape Center.

Offered art lessons virtually or in-person for schools, scouts, homeschoilers, libraries, and senior centers.

Created and sold 27 different FOLLY WOODS crafting kits.

Offer an exhibitions program and associated print and online resources that balances the elements of our mission.

Presented lectures virtually, reaching a wider audience (regional and national) than in-person events could have.

The Expanding Horizons: Celebrating Twenty Years of The Hartford Steam Boiler Collection exhibition accompanying speaker series featured several of the scholars, who provided a broader context for their object labels.

Cement the Museum's role and purpose as a landmark in the community and a cultural destination.

National media attention included The Boston Globe tapping Social & Solitary as one of "New England's 10 Hottest Museum Shows for Summer;" USA Today naming the Griswold House one of the "10 Best Historic Houses to visit in New England;" and a full-length feature in Preservation Magazine (a publication of the National Trust for Historic Preservation).

Co-sponsored Old Lyme Town Band and ice cream social with other civic and cultural organizations.

Continually look for opportunities to engage new audiences, including using new technologies and platforms as they arise.

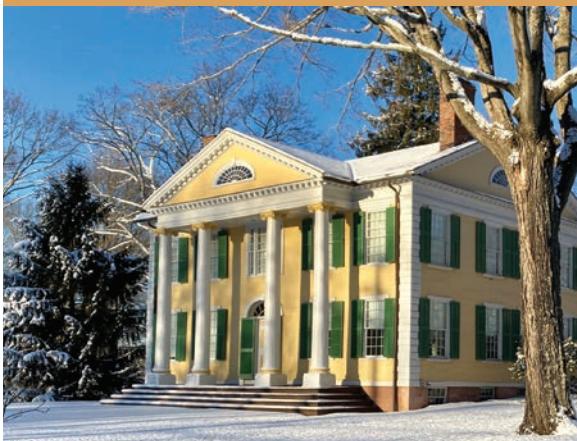

A short residency by Artist jackie sumell resulted in a garden bed in the form of a solitary confinement cell.

Created 14 YouTube videos with total of 2,059 views.

CELEBRATING IDENTITY

PLANNING FOR THE FUTURE

Provide for financial, physical, educational, and environmental stability to ensure the growth of the Museum for future generations.

Foster continued attention to current financial resources and create opportunities to expand contributed income, earned revenue, and investment returns.

Annual Fund surpassed goal of $380,000.

Plan future physical plant needs, specifically added gallery space, space for education, collections study, archival research, meetings, and food service.

Removed diseased European beech, which had become a safety hazard.

Sustain, maintain, and plan for future physical plant and property upkeep, upgrades, and enhancements with sensitivity to ongoing environmental concerns.

Completed ASHRAE Level II Energy Audit with funding from the Frankenthaler Climate Initiative.

Commitment to collection stewardship, exhibition, preservation, and expansion.

Secured funding from the Cultural Arts Fund Grant through CT Humanities to hire an archival intern to manage and improve access to our extensive archival collection while forging a collaboration with at least one college or university.

Refine best practices for governance and staff excellence.

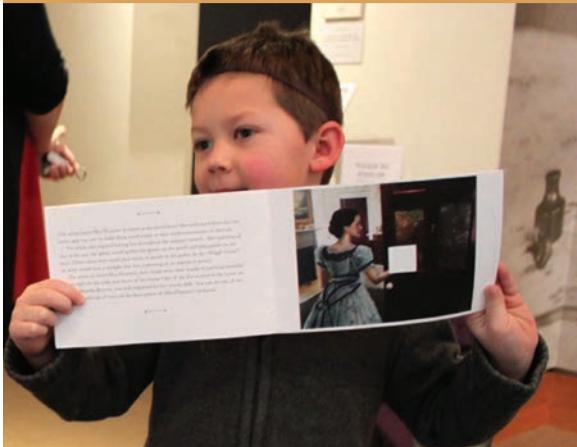

Successfully implemented a new online payroll system, Paycor.

Implemented a staff succession plan for Director's out-of-state trips.

Augment educational programming, outreach, and volunteer opportunities around wider audiences.

Greeted at least 1,100 potential visitors at The Big E (Eastern States Exposition) in Springfield, MA while promoting Wee Faerie Village. Staff interviewed by media, featured on Connecticut's Office of Tourism's social media pages and spoke with the Governor.

Co-moderated a four-part series of talks by Black art educators, artists, and curators with PARJE (Public Art for Racial Justice Education) members Jac Lahav and Eddie Long.

Expand the Museum's ability to showcase our art, history, and landscape through increased collaboration with local, regional, national, and international museums and institutions.

Prioritize representation and diversity with museum and non-museum partners.

Partnered with the Old Lyme Phoebe Griffin Noyes Library and the First Congregational Church of Old Lyme COL in support of the Witness Stones Old Lyme project. The Museum serves as the site for the marker inscribed to Crusa, a Black woman once enslaved on what is now the Museum property.

Foster collaborative initiatives and opportunities that feature and showcase the Museum's collections, educational programming, and staff.

Loaned Willard Metcalf's Eel Trap and Childe Hassam's Summer Evening to the San Antonio Museum of Art and the Dixon Gallery and Gardens (Memphis, TN) for the exhibition America's Impressionism: Echoes of a Revolution.

Encourage staff to embrace collaborative programs with fellow institutions (both onsite and online) as well as participate with local, state, regional, and national professional organizations.

Awarded funding through the state's Regional Marketing Partnership Program to develop a cooperative marketing partnership with the Lyme Art Association to promote visitation to both organizations. Invested in maintaining and strengthening relationship past grant period.

Reimagine our gallery space to showcase more of our collection and attract additional exhibitions that draw a wide variety of new and repeat visitors.

Over 18,000 people visited the Museum during Revisiting America: The Prints of Currier & Ives, a traveling exhibition organized by the Joslyn Art Museum and customized for presentation in Old Lyme.

No advance registration required.
Please check in at Admissions and then ... enjoy!

Enhance our onsite and virtual visitor interactions to create an exceptional visitor experience.

Audit our current onsite and virtual visitor experiences to identify areas for improvement.

Completed conversion to and implementation of Blackbaud Altru, a comprehensive management software that provides seamless transactions for purchasing memberships, making a donation, or participating in an event.

Redesigned website homepage to be user-friendly and better display the variety of our offerings.

Develop and implement a visitor plan prioritizing safety, security, and accessibility.

Installed automated, ADA-compliant front doors to the Krieble Gallery with funding from the COA ARTE-accessible program.

Monitored State of Connecticut and CDC recommendations to move into different stages in a post-pandemic world.

Develop visitor resources to help augment the visitor experience.

Emphasized distributing our Museum sticker book to families during CT Summer at the Museum initiative to promote repeat visitation in order to collect stickers.

Maintain an exceptional, responsive visitor-centered museum experience online, onsite, and during outreach initiatives.

Presented speaker series The Big Picture: Painting Murals to Inspire Change, a dialogue with artist Cadex Herrera, representatives of PARJE (Public Art for Racial Justice Education), and Curator Amy Kurtz Lansing.

Broaden offerings to become more inclusive.

The Museum currently boasts a 95% visitor positivity rating on social media and travel review websites. We constantly monitor this online feedback and report compliments, questions, issues, and concerns to staff.

Transitioned from Columbus Day to Indigenous Peoples Day and Magic of Christmas to Holiday Magic.

Our Annual Meeting*

FRIDAY, JUNE 3 AT 5:30PM

DETAILS TO FOLLOW

THE FLORENCE GRISWOLD MUSEUM is a non-profit organization dedicated to fostering the understanding of American art, with emphasis on the art, history, and landscape of Connecticut. The Museum is located on twelve acres from Florence Griswold's original estate and includes the Florence Griswold House, the Robert and Nancy Krieble Gallery, the John and Kelly Bill Hartman Education Center, the John and Dyanne Rafal Landscape Center, the William Chadwick Studio, Marshfield, the Huntley-Brown House, a living landscape, and a collection of American paintings focusing on the art of Connecticut highlighted by the Hartford Steam Boiler Collection. Other collections include New England furniture, decorative arts, artifacts of everyday life, a reference library, and the Lyme Historical Society Archives. Education programs include exhibitions, lectures, trips, interpretive tours, youth Art Colony Camp, and publications. The Museum also owns the Catherine Fehrer House and property in Lyme. The Museum is accredited by the American Alliance of Museums.

ACCESSIBILITY

The Hartman Education Center and the Krieble Gallery are fully accessible with specially equipped restrooms. Specially designed pathways make much of the Museum's 12 acres accessible by wheelchair. The first floor of the historic Florence Griswold House is wheelchair accessible by a ramped entrance. The 2nd floor (gallery space) of the House and the interior of the historic Chadwick Studio are not accessible by wheelchair.
